RE: STRATEGY FOR OVERALL PLAZA PAYMENT & ENTERTECH

Dear Jack:

Thanks for the pleasant meeting during your visit to L.A. I've discussed in principal some of the ideas that you and I explored with John Daly; on Friday, I will present these ideas to Mark Tolner when he returns from New York.

In summary, you are looking for a mechanism to deliver $1-million in cash ASAP, which could be applied (in part) against the existing Plaza Ent., debt... and in part against future lab work that EnterTech will be incurring with WRS. Additionally, a formal deal would be implemented to utilize EnterTech as the retail sales agency for the JTC / Vendisco / WRS film libraries; and a note for the balance of the Plaza debt would be issued (ostensibly selling to EnterTech the WRS lien against Plaza and its receivable).

I'll discuss this with Mark tomorrow, and get back to you by FAX with a proposal. If you are already out of town on Monday when I expect to be ready to respond, perhaps your office will be able to forward to you our fax.

On a related matter, Paramount Home Video has made an attractive offer to be the "master" distributor for all EnterTech products. If we were to pursue such a venture, the Paramount logo would appear on all our packaging -- new releases would need to be shipped from WRS to one of three Paramount Distribution Centers, for consolidation with their other monthly releases. I'll keep you posted as these talks progress, as they would impact the structure of cash-flow and lock-box plans.

Sincerely,

Eric Parkinson,
President
